

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

SATURDAY EVENING, FEB. 25, 1882.

THE brimming river, grand old swell,
Is on a mighty tear,
And in its run against the banks
Makes panic everywhere.
And as a souvenir to mark,
The dangers of inflation,
It leaves a lot of broken banks
In state of liquidation.

THE river is falling to-day.

BUTTER is scarce and sells for forty cents a pound.

MISS MARX LANG died at Manchester, on Thursday.

THERE are only five persons in the Brown county, (O.) jail.

THE hens are behaving badly again, and eggs have gone back to twenty cents a dozen.

THE subject for the Sunday evening sermon at the M. E. Church, South, will be "The Young Man," and it will be well worth hearing.

THE report that the high water in the river prevents the delivery of coal from the Maysville Elevators, is erroneous. All orders will be promptly filled as usual.

THE masquerade ball at Amazon Hall last night, passed off quietly. The persons present are indebted to the obliging floor managers Messrs. C. R. and R. L. Dawson for many courtesies.

THE following named troupes will appear at Washington Opera House at the dates named: The Mammoth Southern Minstrels, a company of twenty-two artists, a fine brass band and full orchestra, March 9th; Hyde & Behman's Muldoon Picnic troupe, one of the best on the road, March 21st.

Sales of Land.

THE following changes in the ownership of land have been recorded at the office of the Clerk of the County Court since our last report:

James Y. Duncan and wife to James McKibben, one acre, three rods and one pole of land near Fern Leaf; consideration, $1,200.

John G. White and wife to John P. Campbell, thirty-seven acres, one rod and seventeen poles of land on Stone Lick Creek; consideration, $1,300.

Valentine McClure and wife to Sarah Williamson, one acre of land in Rectorsville; consideration, $150.

John L. Tabb and others to James R. Wilson, lot No. 212, in the town of Dover; consideration, $40.

THE anniversaries of the battle of the Lower Blue Licks, and of Holder's defeat, sometimes known as the battle of the Upper Blue Licks or Battle Run, will occur next August. The Mason County Historical Society, with a view to perpetuate the memory of the brave men who fought in these engagements, invites communications from the descendants of any of the men who participated in either of the engagements. Both battles were fought in what was included in the original limits of Mason county. All letters on this subject should be addressed to the society's secretary, Mr. W. D. Hixson.

THE Flemingsburg Times says: "We are pained to record a terrible accident which befell Mrs. Theodosia Kendall, of Poplar Plains, Tuesday evening. She was on a visit to her sister, Mrs. E. A. Robertson, near Tilton, and as she started to go from the dining room to the sitting room she missed the door and fell down a pair of steps, breaking both her arms between the elbows and wrists, and tore loose her scalp from her forehead almost to the back of her head. Medical aid was at once summoned and everything possible done to alleviate her sufferings, and we hope she may recover, as we are sure she will if the loving ministrations of her kind friends will accomplish her cure."

ADAM SMITH.

His Examining Trial on the Charge of Attempting to Pass Counterfeit Money—The Evidence in Full.

The trial of Adam Smith, of Higginsport, O., on the charge of having in his possession and attempting to pass a $20 note on the Tradesman's National Bank, of New York, took place before Mayor January on Friday afternoon. The following is the testimony in the case:

George Schatzmann testified: I saw Smith on the 22nd of February at Schatzmann's saloon. I gave him a letter. He bought something at the bar and paid for it. Have seen the note before. I have known the defendant for about two years and his reputation is good so far as I know.

Miss Nora Smith: Defendant came into Mrs. A. J. Williams' store between 10 and 11 o'clock to buy silk handkerchiefs and offered in payment a $20 bill. I recognize the bill shown me. I went to bank to have it changed, but brought the bill back and told him it was counterfeit. He told me he had no more money and gave back the goods.

J. M. C. Ballenger: I am a clerk in the clothing house of Hechinger Bros. & Co. and saw the defendant this Friday morning. He came into the store and wanted to buy a suit of clothes, offering a $20 bill. I took the bill to bank and brought it back to defendant. He said he did not know what made it counterfeit. I recognize the bill shown me as the one offered for the clothes.

Louis Weland: I am a saloon keeper and have known the defendant for two years. Saw him at my bar about ten o'clock. I recognize the bill. The defendant showed it to me when he was arrested. His general reputation is good so far as I know. He bears a good reputation among his friends.

J. Foster Barbour: I am cashier of the Bank of Maysville and have been for seventeen years. Am an expert in handling money. The bill shown me is a counterfeit.

George Schatzmann recalled: I am in the employ of Fred Schatzmann. There was a letter came to the Germania House directed to Adam Smith. I recognize the letter shown as the one received.

The letter referred to is as follows:

HIGGINSPORT, O., February 8, 1892.
Mr. Adam Smith, Maysville, Ky.—Dear Sir: The twenty dollar bill ($20) you gave me was counterfeit. Please send me a genuine bill at once and I will return you your bill.

Respectfully yours, S. W. RYAN.

E. W. Fitzgerald: I arrested Smith and found a letter on his person. Arrested him at Weland's saloon. He had a $20 bill on the counter and had his hand on the note. I heard Smith say it was a pretty hard looking bill. I recognize the bill shown me as the one taken from the defendant. I took $904.75 and sundry other things from his person.

S. S. Riley: I am a bank clerk and have handled considerable money. Miss Smith came to bank with a $20 bill and I told her it was counterfeit. I cannot say whether or not I have seen the bill before.

Louis Schatzmann: I have known the defendant for six years or more. His reputation so far as I know is that of an honest and upright man. He is a German by birth. I met him first at my house. I have heard his friends speak well of him.

John O'Donnell: I have known defendant four or five years. His general reputation, so far as I know, is good. I have heard some of his neighbors speak well of him.

Phillip Lucas: I have known Smith six or seven years. He worked for Mr. Craig, about three miles from Higginsport when I first knew him. He was in business there, but is not now.

His neighbors say he is an honest man. I live two and a half miles above Higginsport and came to Maysville to-day. He had a small grocery store and sold out four weeks ago. I cannot say how long he lived there. He had bad luck with his store. So far as I know his reputation is good. Have heard at least half a dozen men state that he was an honest man.

The court having heard the evidence and the arguments of the counsel, decided that there were reasonable grounds for believing the defendant guilty, as charged, and held him for trial at the Circuit court, at the next April term. The bail was fixed at $100, which Smith provided for by leaving that amount of money in the hands of Mayor January.

The Best.

Messrs. Robinson & Co., proprietors of the Maysville City Flour Mills, will ship to-day a car load of five hundred bushels of corn meal, to a firm at Mt. Sterling, Ky. Although Messrs. Robinson & Co. buy their corn at Cincinnati and the freight from there to Mt. Sterling is the same from this city, as they have been given the preference over Cincinnati manufacturers, and for the reason that their meal is of a better quality, as it is made of selected corn. They make a specialty of good meal and having a reputation at stake, can afford to make none but the best. They have built up a large trade which requires about a thousand bushels of corn a week to supply.

Fall of a Bridge.

CINCINNATI, O., February 25, 1882.—A railroad bridge over the Miami river two miles north of Hamilton, was swept away by the high water while forty men were at work upon it. Joseph Taylor was drowned and several other persons were badly injured.

Roscoe Conkling Nominated to the Supreme Bench and Aaron A. Sargent as Minister to Germany.

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 25, 1882.—The President has nominated Mr. Conkling to be an Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court in place of Judge Hunt, retired. The nomination was a great surprise to the Senators. Ex-Senator A. A. Sargent was nominated for the German Mission.

DIED.

On Tuesday morning, February 21st, near Germantown, Ky., after a short illness, WM. ELLIOTT, in the eighty-fourth year of his age. He spoke of death and his burial with great calmness. For many months he seemed to be quietly awaiting the summons calling him hence, and when it came it found him ready.
